

We as amateur radio operators all did the home work to pass the code tests, So we could up grade. Yes it came easy for some and hard for others. Morse code is the backbone of amateur radio and if we lose it we are losing a vital part of amateur radio history. Thank you for your time Bruce Gilson N3XUK Fists # 9904